Watch the First Trailer for Interracial Marriage Drama “Loving”

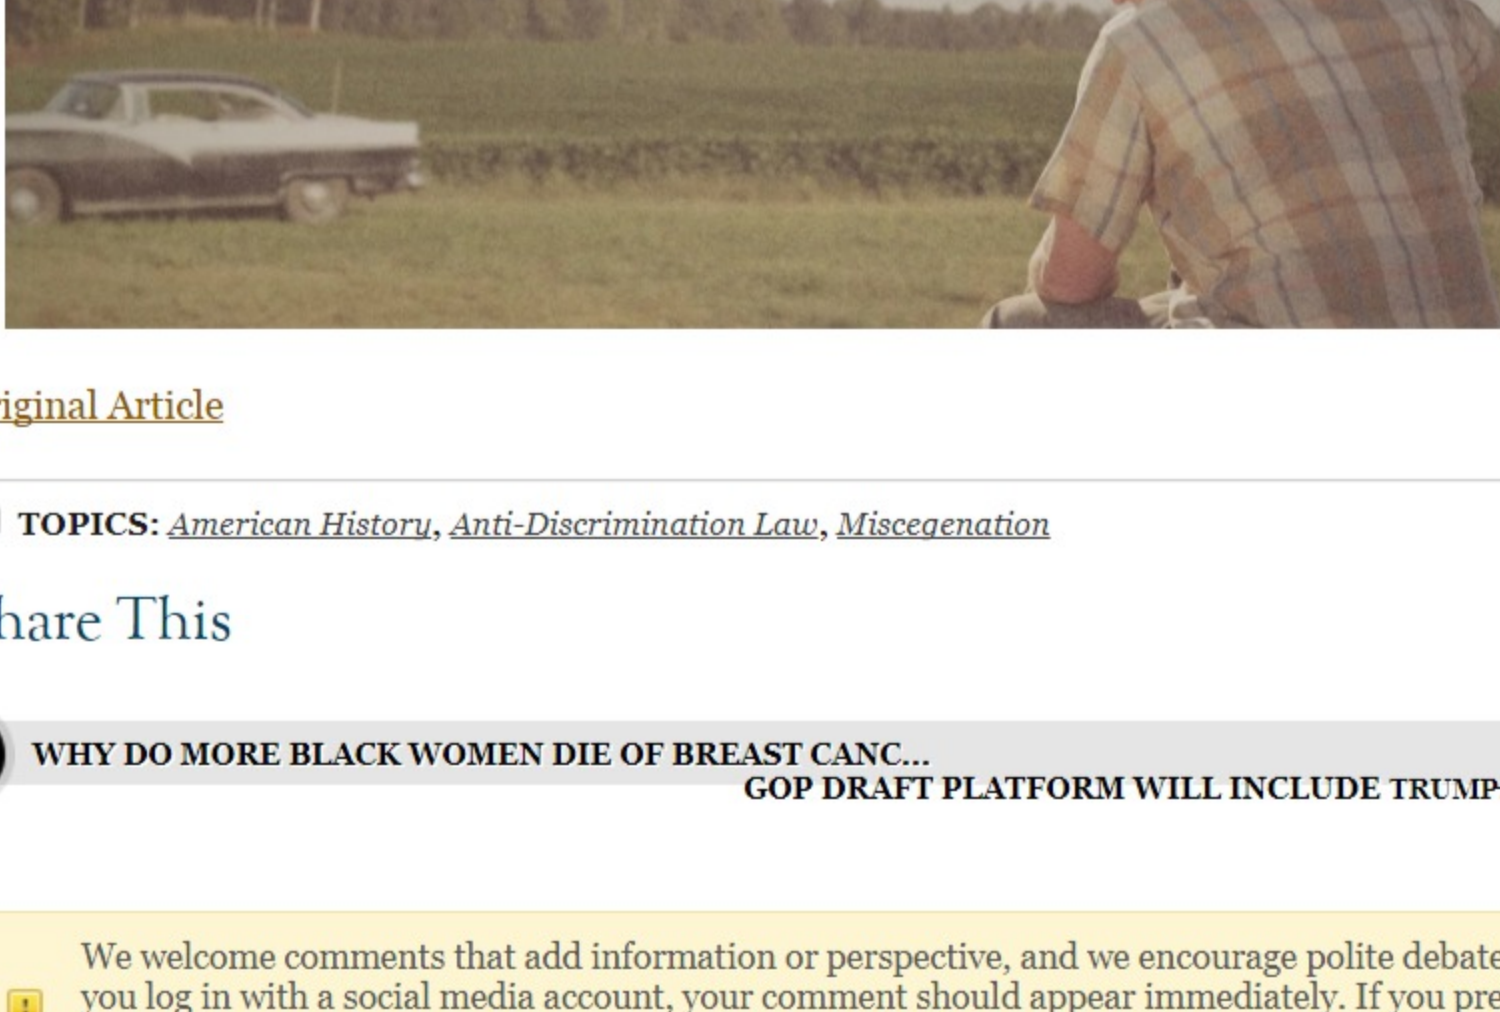

Ned Ehrbar, CBS News, July 12, 2016

Get your tissues ready, because the first look at this year’s crop of hearstring-pulling dramas is here with the trailer for “Loving.”

{snip}

“Loving” celebrates the real-life courage and commitment of an interracial couple, Richard and Mildred Loving, who married and then spent the next nine years fighting for the right to live as a family in their hometown. Their civil rights case, Loving v. Virginia, went all the way to the Supreme Court, which in 1967 reaffirmed the very foundation of the right to marry—and their love story has become an inspiration to couples ever since.”

“Loving” debuts in theaters November 4, 2016.

Andrew Flanders · MekongDelta69 · a year ago It can't be stated too many times, miscegenation is a CRIME against nature.

Southern Cross · Andrew Flanders · a year ago Well, I don't think so. I'm not for it particularly, but miscegenation goes back a long time in history. Homosexuality is a crime against nature, but interracial marriage? Nah.

Nevertheless, I am opposed to the court's decision in that case because Virginia had the right to make whatever laws it wants on marriage, and if you don't like it, don't live there.

As for myself, I cannot imagine marrying outside of my race. I just don't find any chicks but white chicks attractive. Give me a good-looking, pasty-skinned redhead and I am in orbit.

Tim · Southern Cross · a year ago My Mom threw a shoe at me once. My ten year old nephew asked me what a strawberry blonde was and I said, "It's a girl whose body temperature is 15 degrees hotter than a regular red-head..."

FLUECHTLING.NET (refugees) · MekongDelta69 · a year ago Anyone will show a movie that demonstrates the 10 fold (?) danger of suffering domestic violence for whites of any gender? sex marrying a Black person?

That is statistics, I am too lazy to find them

Of course, statistics are racist!!

BTW, if you want to search:

Politically incorrect google search. Main stream media results are filtered out. The results focus on alternative media. Try to search your home town, for example. Must try!

FLUECHTLING.NET (refugees) · MekongDelta69 · a year ago The trailer is really touchy feely heart warming. Who would be heartless enough to oppose this.

This is an example of the media brainwashing.

One such movie about a White woman gang raped by US Blacks or Euro-Muslims and mentally, psychologically, physically damaged for life, one such movie would change the world.

Or the life of ONE single white busing student getting bullied by Blacks for years on end.

But it will not happen.

No one quite gets it that exactly this is the reason why liberals are liberals, why people vote left, why people vote immigration carriewhite64 · FLUECHTLING.NET (refugees) · a year ago This trailer incorporates every cheap emotional trick used by Hollywood. It even looks cheap and tacky. It could easily be a satire of a Lifetime movie.

Relentless manipulation of the information we see and hear. The only way to deprogram this brainwashing is daily reading of Amren, Vdare, Breitbart, .....

Thought Crime Online · FLUECHTLING.NET (refugees) · a year ago "All the power of the educational establishment, all the massive and saturating influences of a vast Negrophile news and entertainment media, all the cunning of politicians, all the pleas of the churches, and all the international tentacles of the United Nations were being ruthlessly employed to deceive our youth and the general public. Against such regiments of darkness could the truth prevail?"

Oil Can Harry · a year ago I wanted to go to the movie premiere but that weekend I have to take my pet unicorn to the vet.

Southern Cross · Oil Can Harry · a year ago Yeah, I'd like to see it, too, but I'll be doing something more urgent like rearranging my sock drawer. Maybe I'll get around to it in 50 years or so.

Jack Frost · Southern Cross · a year ago It's on my list as well, right behind the updated Roots!

· Reply · Share

Southern Cross · Jack Frost · a year ago I haven't even seen the original Roots, although it was so ubiquitous in 1977 that every day I went to school some kid would be saying, "My name is Kunte Kinte!" I didn't have a clue what he was talking about and still don't other than I understand Levar Burton played this character.

Southern Cross · IstvanIN · a year ago All right. After all, I'm not a liberal and won't try to run your life. But it always made me smile every time I saw it. I hope we win for many reasons, but add to that the new one of seeing the Yogi Bear-looking fellow in the hat again.

Elaine · a year ago It is interesting that "interracial marriage" seems defined as White + non-White.

Why can't the various sorts of non-Whites go marry each other? Why do they have to bring us into everything?

A. Alexander Minsky · Elaine · a year ago I used to work with a young fellow who lived in Israel for a year. He told me that there were a plethora of movies and TV shows about Israelis and Palestinians who fall in love. For some posters on this thread, that would be a form of interracial love that doesn't involve Whites.

Elaine · A. Alexander Minsky · a year ago It probably follows the same pattern we see in the US. They probably show a White Jew with a very swarthy Arab.

bobjo · A. Alexander Minsky · a year ago Well looks like the Amish want to kill off their own race since they are too brainwashed to realize that. But the Jews and Arabs are cousins. So not racial suicide there, but consanguinity.

1 · Reply · Share

Xanthippe2 · bobjo · a year ago Yeah, as long as the Arab was at least upper middle class, converted, and the kids were raised as Jews, I think most Jews would have no objection ..... unlike if a Jew married a Black.

A. Alexander Minsky · bobjo · a year ago Consanguinity- that's a great word. Sounds like something that would just roll over the tongue of the late William F. Buckley.

Southern Cross · A. Alexander Minsky · a year ago I miss Bill. He really had a way with words. I loved his column in every issue of National Review. I can only imagine what he would think of Obungle.

A. Alexander Minsky · Southern Cross · a year ago It also would have been very interesting to see his reaction to his son Christopher's endorsement of Obama in 2008.

· Reply · Share

Southern Cross · A. Alexander Minsky · a year ago Well, under the circumstances he probably wouldn't have disowned him. There was a lot of misplaced optimism in the community organizer back then. But Bill himself would have never been foolish enough to endorse Obungle.

A. Alexander Minsky · Southern Cross · a year ago Buckley had friends of all ideological stripes. I've read that he only debated politics when he was being paid to do so. He certainly wouldn't have disowned his son over a political endorsement. Buckley knew that friendship and family trump politics.

Xanthippe2 · Elaine · a year ago Most White racists I know regard these matches just as curiosities. They don't get excited about them as they do not involve Whites.
